Are you interested in working with looked after children and young people?

If you have ever considered working in this challenging and dynamic field come along and find out more.

Whitewood & Fleming are a ground breaking and innovative company with a national reputation and over twenty years experience of working with looked after children.

Following a successful year of pilot projects in Cumbria the company are looking to expand their creative team.

We invite artists from a wide variety of disciplines to come and meet the company, find out more about our work and explore what you can bring to our new programme.

Workshops will be held in September 2009

in Whitehaven and Carlisle - further details to be announced.

£10 including lunch. Numbers are limited so booking is essential.
